

IDENTIFYING

— THE RIGHT DEDICATED —

CARRIER

Once you have determined a dedicated solution is the answer to bettering your bulk business, identifying the right dedicated carrier for the job is the next step. The only way to ensure a carrier will truly help grow your business is to do an extensive evaluation of the carrier's capabilities.

Use this checklist to assess whether a carrier can provide the resources you need to better your bottom line.

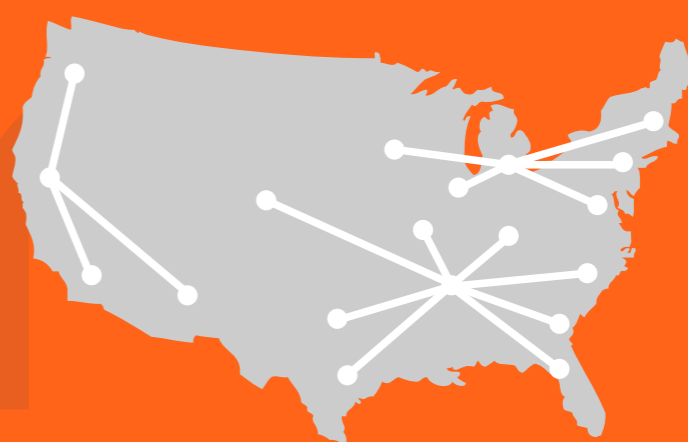

Access to capacity — and the ability to flex as business needs change

Ability to drive efficiencies and continuous improvements

Extensive industry knowledge and expertise

Broad geographic coverage

Owned assets, such as standard and specialty equipment

Regular safety and compliance trainings for staff and drivers

Demonstrated practices and results to drive safe operations

Strong financial history indicating resilience and ability to invest in equipment

If you are a shipper looking for the right dedicated transportation provider for your bulk business, Schneider has the experience and resources to provide the best results.

Contact Schneider Bulk to learn more solutions@schneider.com