

PREDICTABLE SUPPLY CHAIN IMPROVES SHIPPING OPERATIONS

For one manufacturer, its intermodal transportation base was frequently missing the mark. This meant daily management of the minutiae and a constant scramble to find new carriers to move loads. Consistently late freight and fines amounting to thousands of dollars in unexpected transportation costs added to the business' distress. Ready to do right by its customers and regain complete control of its supply chain, the manufacturer turned to Schneider Sole Source for cost-efficient and predictable transportation management.

THE SITUATION

Previously accepted loads would be dropped at the last minute

On-time pickup and delivery requirements lapsed

Expected communication guidelines were ignored

THE SCHNEIDER SOLUTION

Guaranteed capacity kept freight moving

Competitive pricing kept transportation costs predictable

On-time pickup and delivery eliminated fines

Proactive communication ensured freight status was known at all times
